PROFILE

Jennifer Cook is an actress, writer, singer/songwriter and composer based in Los Angeles. Most recently, her TikTok musical The Bachelor went viral. Jen specializes in musical comedy for the stage and screen, songwriting for pop artists and she also has a passion for choral music. She is currently developing multiple projects, including The Bachelorette, a series of real-time musical comedy recaps of each episode. Jen's theater commissions include Full House Theatre Co. and British Youth Musical Theatre, and her music has been performed at the Helen Hayes Theatre and 54 Below in NYC, and the Garrick Theatre and Globe Theatre in London. She earned a Master's degree in Musical Theatre Writing from Goldsmiths University In London, a Bachelor's in Contemporary Music from Brigham Young University, and is an advanced alumni from the BML (Book, Music, Lyrics) workshop in London. Jen also enjoys channeling her overactive imagination into a solo pop project under the moniker "Cookie."
